

I strongly disagree with Sinclair Broadcasting's decision to air a partisan pseudo-documentary in the days just before a presidential election. It is my understanding that Sinclair uses the public airwaves free of charge and is obligated by law to serve the public interest. I do not believe it serves my community's interest to be force fed only one political viewpoint, especially one masquerading under the guise of objective and factual news. I believe this clearly shows the dangers of media consolidation and demonstrates why we should strengthen media ownership rules. Thank you.
